Moscow Slugs At Republic Reds— New Russian Purge Hints Of Fresh Kremlin Struggle

Georgian Premier Dismissed;
Former Deputy Takes Reins

LONDON (AP) — A new purge, the third within 18 months, hit the Soviet republic of Georgia Tuesday. The two top men were fired in a shakeup possibly mirroring a fresh struggle in the Kremlin for political control of that homeland of Joseph Stalin and Lavrenty Beria.

A broadcast from Tbilisi (Tiflis), the capital, gave the de-

Premier Valerian Bakradze, who had headed the government since last April, was dismissed in disgrace and G. D. Javakhishvili, a former deputy premier, was named in his place.

Secretary Mirtskhulava of the central committee of the Georgian Communist Party was simultaneously dismissed and replaced by a man named Mamaladze, presumably a former justice minister of the republic.

The broadcast stated the meeting "noted that the Bureau of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of Georgia and the Council of Ministers of the Georgian Soviet Socialist Republic have not achieved the fulfillment of the decree of the July plenary session of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union and declared the work of the Bureau of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of Georgia and the Council of Ministers of the Georgian S.S.R. was unsatisfactory."

Too Easy

The July plenary of the Soviet Party's Central Committee approved the ouster of Beria as interior minister and his expulsion from the party and referred his case to the Soviet Supreme Court.

Apparently the Kremlin leaders felt the Georgian Communists were being too easy on Beria's henchmen still in power.

The removal of Bakradze and Mirtskhulava could be just a delayed-action cleanup of Beria men in top Georgian posts.

But a secretary of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union from Moscow, N. M. Shatalin, presided at the purge session. His announced presence makes it obvious that he is the man who brought the orders from the Kremlin.

Shatalin is one of the three secretaries of the Central Committee in Moscow subordinate to the newly elected first secretary, Nikita Khrushchev. Presumably he gets his instructions from Khrushchev.

This suggests the two men now running the party and government in Georgia may be Khrushchev men.

Autumn Arrives With 'Harvest Moon,' No Rain

Autumn's official arrival in Nebraska was timed at 2:07 a.m. Wednesday, in the light of a "Harvest Moon."

The moon was at its fullest at 10:15 p.m. Tuesday.

And Wednesday, like the days immediately preceding it, was expected to be accompanied by fair skies and no rain.

It will be somewhat warmer, the weather bureau said, with high temperatures of 85 to 90 in the east and 90 to 95 in the west for the first day of Autumn.

The change of seasons brings no change in the pattern of drought which has dealt a succession of hard blows to Nebraska's crops.

Disturbing Television Now Illegal Interfering Appliances Must Be Repaired

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

The City Council has placed an ordinance on its books to stop the operation of appliances, machines or other devices which interfere with television reception in an individual's home.

According to Deputy City Attorney Jack Pace, the ordinance covers such things as electric mixers, saws, vacuum sweepers, shavers and other household appliances which cause interference on television screens. Under the new law, such appliances could not be operated until repaired so they would not interfere with television frequencies.

Roscoe Benton, city electrical inspector, stated that his office has many calls from persons receiving interference on their TV sets. His department, said Benton, determines from the type of interference on the screen what is causing the interference.

After the interfering mechanism has been determined, said Benton, equipment from Consumers Public Power District is brought into the vicinity to determine the area from which the interference comes. After that, said Benton, it is a matter of house to house canvassing to determine the exact location of the interference.

Individuals, when told of the trouble their appliance or machine is causing, said Benton, have been very co-operative in remediying the difficulty.

Any appliance, motor or automobile, said Benton, can be repaired at a very nominal cost to stop its interference. Such electrical devices, he explained, send out high frequency waves which generally do not bother radio reception but play havoc with high frequency television waves.

According to Benton, the new city ordinance was drafted from a code of laws established by the Federal Communications Commission.

Doctors, dentists, osteopaths, chiropractors or any one else licensed to practice medicine may operate any machines necessary to give their patients treatment provided all reasonable methods of preventing interference with television reception have been applied.

Assurance Given

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—College students taking advanced ROTC air training were given new assurance Tuesday that their draft deferment will be continued even though the Air Force can't take all of them as officers.

Outlining a new policy made necessary by budget restrictions, Air Force ROTC headquarters said all advanced students now under contract will be draft exempt until the completion of their course but only the "best qualified" will be commissioned.

Gen. Dean And Family Reunited In California

From Press Dispatches

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. — Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, the rangy hero of Taegu, came home Tuesday night after three years of Communist imprisonment and a valiant last stand early in the Korean War.

He arrived in a huge C-97 military transport, which swept into this big air base in bright moonlight. The plane landed about an hour ahead of its scheduled arrival time—aided by strong tail winds on the Honolulu flight.

The silvery ship touched the runway at 10:07 p.m. (11:07 CST, Tuesday). Dean's happy family, who had been waiting in the luxuriously-appointed waiting room of the terminal, streamed out to the plane.

"I want you all to get it out of your heads that I am a hero," he told newsmen. "I'm not—I'm just a dog-face soldier."

Both were beaming.

Flashbulbs Pop

The party had moved only a few feet from the plane when Dean's mother, Mrs. Charles W. Dean of Berkeley, was helped through the crowd to his side. He hugged her. The women took places on either side of him.

The group started off toward the terminal building, looking amid the popping of camera flashbulbs.

They had moved only a few feet when the General's daughter, Mrs. Robert C. Williams, ran up and threw her arms around him.

"Hi June," he said, patting her on the back and holding her tightly.

She turned to her husband, Capt. Robert C. Williams, who was carrying the general's grandson, Robert Dean Williams. The boy, 2 1/2, jumped into his grandfather's arms.

The tall, white-haired general kissed the lad on the cheek and carried him on his broad shoulders.

Mrs. Dean was walking beside him. The general continued to kiss the boy on the cheek. Then suddenly the boy, bewildered, began to cry. Mrs. Dean patted him and said, "It's all right." The boy smiled again.

The 54-year-old general, winner of the Medal of Honor, had asked for no special honors.

Personal Appeal Of Joseph Ryan Brushed Aside

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The AFL Tuesday expelled its longshoremen's union for harboring "gangsters, racketeers and thugs."

The AFL convention voted to oust the 60,000-member International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) despite a personal appeal on the convention floor from 69-year-old ILA president Joseph P. Ryan.

The union has been accused by crime investigators of being infiltrated with criminal elements on the New York and New Jersey waterfronts.

The resolution ousting the ILA

"The ILA has permitted gangsters, racketeers and thugs to fasten themselves to the body of its organization, infecting it with corruption and destroying its integrity, its effectiveness and its trade union character."

72,362 TO 765 VOTE

The vote for expulsion was 72,362 to 765.

The ILA delegates walked out together after Meany reported the resolution had been adopted and the charter had been revoked.

When Ryan was asked by newsmen what he would do now, his only comment was:

"I will call the board together for the purpose of calling a convention and let the membership decide what to do."

The delegates, with the exception of Ryan, who are antagonistic toward newsmen. They pulled and pushed Ryan along as he talked to reporters on the way out.

The convention resolution said a new AFL union will be established under a five-man trusteeship to try to take over all ILA members wanting to remain in the AFL, as well as take over collective bargaining rights and welfare funds now held by the ILA.

8-Month Wait

The resolution said for eight months the ILA has failed to take steps demanded by the AFL for a cleanup.

About 40 per cent of the ILA's membership is in the New York-New Jersey area, where crime investigators have turned up evidence of corruption.

Ryan, himself under indictment on charges of larceny of ILA funds, made an unavailing, last-minute appeal to the convention seeking to avoid expulsion.

Ryan claimed various investigations of his union by congressional committees and the New York State Crime Commission had failed to turn up any real evidence involving the union.

Monopoly Charge Is Tossed Out

34-Month Trial Of Bankers Is Ended

NEW YORK (AP) — Government anti-trust charges against 17 of the nation's biggest investment bankers were thrown out of court Tuesday after a marathon trial of 34 months.

At stake was the whole multi-billion dollar system of marketing American securities, which are the life blood of expansion for the nation's industries.

Federal Judge Harold R. Medina found no merit in more than five million words of government testimony that the 17 firms monopolized the securities business to fix prices and insure profits.

The defendants spent in the neighborhood of $750,000 on the case, the government between $1,500,000 and $3 million. It was one of the longest court trials here in years, if not the longest. Frequent recesses were necessary. Once Medina and 51 lawyers and court attaches quit cold for a day to take in a Brooklyn Dodgers baseball game and get their minds off the pinwheel of complicated issues.

"It really is 1,500 trials in one trial," remarked Medina in a moment of quiet desperation as he watched the evidence pile into a mountain of 108,646 pages.

There was only one major witness, despite the length of the trial. Most of the argument revolved around documents from the files of the defendant companies.

"There is nothing in the history of American jurisprudence to compare with it," Medina said of the trial.

Objections To Zoning Voiced Again

Various individuals, groups and organizations have appeared before the City Council for the second time to voice objections to the proposed new zoning ordinance.

Two of the strongest objections were against the non-conforming use regulations and sign restrictions in the new ordinance.

Harry Wentz appeared as chairman of a committee representing Lincoln petroleum dealers who objected to both the sign requirements and non-conforming provisions. There are 200 service stations and 25 bulk oil companies in the city, said Wentz, that will be effected by this new ordinance.

The size and setback requirements on signs in certain areas, he said, will practically put some service stations out of business.

Lincoln's city planning engineer Paul Watt explained, however, that no non-conforming uses or structures except billboards must be removed within the two-year period.

Attorney Max Kier told the Council that sign setback and size requirements would practically prohibit the outdoor advertising business.

A host of objections to such things as setbacks, parking requirements, multiple family unit zones and other matters were presented by Attorney Chauncey Barney on behalf of Lincoln builders, realtors and loan companies.

Parcel Post Hike Starts On Oct. 1

Parcel post rate increases requested by the Post Office Department and approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission will go into effect Oct. 1.

Cost of sending fourth-class parcels in the first or second zone (up to 150 miles) will go from 17 to 23 cents for the first pound, with proportionate increases in rates for each additional pound.

First-pound rates for packages going to the sixth zone (1,000 to 1,400 miles) will be raised from 23 cents to 28 cents.

Along with the rate increases, the ICC approved elimination of surcharges now assessed on packages too large or too fragile to be transported in mailbags.

Gerald D. Jones, superintendent of mail at the Lincoln Post Office, said the increases will help to bring revenue from fourth-class mail up to the expense of handling it.

However, the increase probably will not be sufficient to balance revenues and expenses, Jones said. Another rate increase is pending before the ICC.

Crosby Says Ike Still Popular In State

Gov. Robert Crosby said Tuesday in a radio interview that he doubted whether the "personal popularity of President Eisenhower has suffered much" in Nebraska as the result of declining farm prices.

"I feel that if an election were to be held today, farmers would vote overwhelmingly in favor of President Eisenhower," the Governor continued. "They're not indifferent to the price situation with cattle prices half of what they were a year ago, but they're not panicky—they're not running away from the Republican party."

Gov. Crosby was a member of a panel on the Mutual Broadcasting System program "Facts Forum," originating from KOLN. Other panel members were newsmen James E. Lawrence, editor of The Lincoln Star, and Hugh Fogarty, assistant managing editor of the Omaha World Herald.

Fogarty asked the Governor how Nebrascans feel about Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

"Our farm people haven't passed judgment on Secretary Benson yet," Gov. Crosby replied. "Many Nebraska farm people liked what he said about getting control of the farm program back to the people. A good many don't want to abandon price supports though."

The governor, who explained that, to a certain extent, he considered the New and Fair Deal farm programs socialistic, said the nation needs a farm program that would avoid surpluses and one that "would reach to the roots of the support prices problem."

Crosby stated that the farmer was in a peculiar position as far as his inability to control the marketing of the product he has to sell. "The farmer feels he is entitled to some help when he is having a difficult time," the city dweller's welfare depends upon a healthy farm economy," the governor added.

The governor was asked if he felt GOP State Chairman Dave Martin of Kearney, quoted in Chicago as saying Nebraska farmers were indifferent to the Eisenhower farm program, had his finger on the pulse of the farmers of this state.

Not Clear

Crosby answered by saying he was not certain Martin had been correctly quoted. The governor said it was not clear how Martin had used the word "indifferent."

Lawrence asked the Governor if Benson's talk about expanding agricultural markets in world trade was inconsistent with the "high tariff undertones in Congress."

Crosby stated that he agreed with Benson that a solution to farm problems here may lie in getting the farmer's products into world trade and into portions of the world that are starving.

"There is no inconsistency as Congress has not yet re-established high tariffs," the governor added.

On the subject of McCarthyism, Crosby said, "Most Nebrascans feel that the work of McCarthy may have been brusque and hard, but it was something rather healthy—in getting to the heart of a problem that is hard to uncover."

Lawrence queried the governor on whether or not he felt Sen. McCarthy's methods constituted an infringement of due rights and processes guaranteed by the Constitution.

"There has been no infringement that has not been corrected," Crosby answered, but added that it would be "more appropriate" if the accuser were present at Congressional inquiries at the same time the witness was present.

Mr. Lawrence specifically suggested that anyone called before McCarthy's committee should be represented by a lawyer of his own choosing, should know his accuser, have a right to face him, and, if he desired, to cross-examine him. The governor replied that a Congressional investigation was not a court proceeding.

Corn Shelling—1900 Style

Steam Engine From Yesteryear Powers Modern Corn Sheller

William Burgess, who lives on a farm about seven miles southwest of Lincoln, returned for an afternoon to the days of the early 1900s.

He did so to the wonderment of many of the younger farmers living near him and the delight of many of his contemporaries. The younger man came to see what many of them had never seen before while the older men just wanted another look at the old fashioned steam engine in prominent use about 50 years ago for shelling corn and other chores.

Burgess said he tinkered with the lumbering engine all morning to have it running in top shape for the afternoon corn shelling. The 16 horsepower engine was hooked with a belt to the more modern sheller.

Making It A Million

One of the most thought-provoking surveys of recent years comes from state-federal crop statistician A. E. Anderson in computing Nebraska's 1953 agricultural outlook as of the opening day of September.

In skeletonized form, Mr. Anderson, as competent a source as there is in the state, sizes it up this way: "Most of the Nebraska corn north of the Platte River in the eastern area of the state is fair to good. . . . Central Nebraska has about as good a crop as last year. . . . South of the Platte, corn is very poor with many barren stalks and poorly filled ears. . . . The Panhandle and north central areas probably have record crops. . . . Because of favorable moisture conditions, together with irrigation, the Panhandle will probably have the highest average yield of any district in Nebraska. . . . In southwestern and south central districts, dry land fields are poorest, but irrigated corn is good and will bring up the average."

Then Mr. Anderson offers this comment, to which particular attention should be directed: "Nebraska has considerably over half a million acres of irrigated corn, practically all of which will yield well."

What a wonderful stabilizing contribution could come to Nebraska in 1954 by doubling these irrigated acres of corn. This state has enjoyed the longest unbroken cycle of favorable moisture conditions in its history — starting early in the 'forties and continuing through until 1952, except for isolated areas. The result was gratifying to all out on the farms and in the towns and cities. It did, however, obscure the importance of an expanding irrigation program in this state where it can be said that season after season additional water for the fields is vital to peak production.

Out over Nebraska today, we are told, there is a renewed interest in irrigation. Farmers are sinking wells and are arranging for the equipment to irrigate their fields. No single step of progress in 12 short months could exceed an expansion of irrigation facilities by doubling the number of acres which now have it.

In Nebraska that is the very best crop insurance.

Back To The Old Two-House

The group of distinguished Republican and Democratic leaders who have been devoting their energies to Nebraska's unicameral legislative system should be given credit for forthrightness.

No half-way measures for them. They would toss the unicameral legislature overboard, bag and baggage, and replace it with the old partisan two-house legislature of earlier years in this state. That draws the issue squarely. It eliminates confusion and pretense. It provides the voters with a real choice. It is an honest statement of the real, full objectives of a political leadership occupying prominent standing within the ranks of the two major parties, a leadership largely opposed to the Nebraska unicameral in the beginning and unreconciled to it through the years.

Initiative petitions have been prepared for circulation calling for a vote at the next general election, which means that Nebraska voters will express themselves in November of 1954. Chief provisions of the proposal to restore the two-house legislature call for a House of Representatives of not fewer than 80 members nor more than 100. "This feature will give the more heavily populated areas more representation than they now have under the present system," the committee's statement said. The Senate is to be composed of not fewer than 30 nor more than 40 members with equal representation from each congressional district. "Within the congressional district, however," the committee adds in its statement, "the senatorial district shall be divided on a geographical area basis rather than on population, which will give the rural areas more representation proportionately than they now have. Members of the House of Representatives would be elected for two-year terms; members of the Senate, for four years, with the senatorial terms staggered so as to provide continuity."

Obviously the plan for choosing members for the two-house legislature seeks to offer crumbs to the urban centers of population and to the rural areas. There is a provision for legislative pay on the basis of $20 per day for each day the Legislator is in actual attendance for a maximum of 75 legislative days. "This would not limit the length of the session but would encourage shorter sessions," the statement said. While a short session generally is a desirable objective, we are quite sure that the people of Nebraska are unwilling to shorten a legislative session at the cost of hasty, precipitate consideration of legislation.

And it was in the rush of those closing days when the conference committees busied themselves with controversial bills that the worst abuses took place. Then it was not an uncommon experience in the eleventh-hour rush to get away that bills were rewritten almost entirely and pushed through with a whoop.

This proposal should add spice to the next campaign.

Atomic Cannon

Russia's propaganda mill started turning at high speed again on news that the United States is shipping several atomic cannons to Europe. The crime is that the presence of such dread weapons will cause the Reds to re-enter in their campaign of European aggression.

In the case of atomic weapons, which are truly dangerous to civilization, there is no greater inherent harm in storing supplies of bombs in Moscow, or in the United States, than in housing some atomic cannon in Europe, since atomic warfare is too bleak to contemplate whatever geographical point marks its origin. The evil lies in human behavior in the possession of them. No firing orders went with the cannon nor ever will unless the Reds themselves dictate it. But if their presence strengthens the principle of restraint, the cause of peace has been advanced.

Forty Too Many

The former Sultan of Morocco is in a bad way. Now in exile in Corsica with only three of his nearly 40 wives and concubines, he mopes around his hotel quarters, lonesome for additional feminine companionship and loud in his demands that the French move him from his mountain retreat. It is too cold there, he complains. One is to assume that the sultan needs all his loves to keep him warm.

Some of the women are awaiting decision on their destination in the old Moroccan city of Rabat; some have gone home to their mamas. Which prompts a note of sympathy for the stricken ruler. Maybe 40 wives wouldn't be so bad—but imagine having 40 mothers-in-law!

A Woman Is A Woman

Madame Pandit, that lovely, gray-haired lady of India who now holds the highest international role ever to be assumed by a woman—that of president of the General Assembly of the United Nations—doesn't care for "this emphasis on women as women." And then she completely reverses herself and proves the age-old conviction—that a woman is a woman, and always will be. She was demonstrating the wrapping of the six-yard sari which she now prefers over the western clothes worn during school days. "These are so much more beautiful," she explained. "And so comfortable. One doesn't need to wear girdles and things."

PAYMENT OUT OF

revenue bond, a comparative newcomer in the field, to finance a program of permanent improvements. The revenue bond is not a lien against property. But interest and principal are paid out of earnings. From the beginning of discussion of the sore need for expansion of the Lincoln water plant, the conclusion was that it would pay for itself over a period of years out of earnings, which it will, without drawing upon tax funds. It so happens that the development program comes at a particular time when cheap money appears to be on the way out. Had the expansion program gotten under way two or three years earlier, it would have been possible to have effected a substantial saving in interest charges.

For that we must blame ourselves. In fairness it must be said that no one anticipated the rise in interest rates. We can be grateful for the initiative in getting the water plant expansion program under way in recent weeks. Unless interest trends reverse themselves the longer we wait, the higher interest Lincoln may pay.

Values Of A Liberal Education

Unity Of The Liberal Arts

By DR. WILLIAM K. PFEILER
Chairman, Department

University of Nebraska

(Third of a series)

The College of Liberal Arts as the core of university education has played a paramount role in the history of the mind of Western man. The magnificent record of its countless graduates testifies to the abiding value of this great institution of higher learning.

The term liberal arts designates such courses of instruction that lead to an academic degree as distinguished from technical, professional degrees. A College of Liberal Arts generally offers a choice of courses in the arts, natural sciences, social sciences, and the humanities. The term liberal arts originally comes from artes liberales which meant "the arts of freemen." It refers to a study of subjects suited to "free men."

In classical antiquity, education was given only to the free and to the aristocrats; for the unfree members of society no education existed—only vocational training of sorts. It happened that free men became slaves and then acted as instructors and "professors" for their conquerors as it was not uncommon for a master to vacate the chairmanship.

It won't do labor much good, Martin figures, to draft a new Taft-Hartley Act, then have the new chairman of the Labor Committee of which he is chairman would be a bad blow to labor.

McConnell should leave Congress and the Labor Committee, he would be replaced by one of the most reactionary labor-haters in Congress, Ralph Gwin of New York. Also on the House Committee are such anti-labor men as Wint Smith of Kansas and Clare Hoffman of Michigan, so Speaker Joe Martin has given the quiet word that it would be bad for McConnell to vacate the chairmanship.

Wurster Is New Base Commander

Col. Ervin Wurster, 35, of Logan, Utah, has assumed command of the Lincoln Air Force Base "much impressed with the activity under way."

Following his first tour of the base, Col. Wurster, formerly deputy director of personnel at March Air Force Base at Riverside, Calif., stated the Lincoln facilities appear to be of the finest quality.

"I believe this will develop into a very fine base," said Col. Wurster.

The new commander arrived in Lincoln with his wife, Gloria, and three children, Nancy, 10, Douglas, 7, and Dana, 3. The family will live on the base.

Gradual Buildup

Col. Wurster stated that the base commander's job now consists of building up Air Base or housekeeping units as various stages of construction are completed. These are the units, he said, that will support the tactical or operational units that will arrive at a later date.

The personnel buildup at the base, said Col. Wurster, will be gradual and orderly. The supply and communications depot will be ready soon, he said, and personnel will be moved in to handle those units.

Other personnel, he said, will be moved in as other phases of construction are completed. By Jan. 1, Col. Wurster estimated, the base complement would total about 200 men.

Col. Wurster assumes command from Col. Archie Benner, who came to the Lincoln base as air installations officer and will remain here in that capacity. Col. Benner has acted as temporary commander at the base since the discharge from service Sept. 1 of Col. Myers B. Cather of Lincoln, base commander since last May 20.

Col. Wurster entered the service in 1940 and served as a pilot during World War II in the European theater. Since World War II, Col. Wurster has been stationed at various Strategic Air Command bases.

A Dog's Life Isn't What It Used To Be

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

An open letter to dogs only:
The great objectives of the most faithful of all domesticated animals are being realized. The expression of "it's a dog's life" is now raised to the highest ideals from that originally low brow expression.

This week commemorates National Dog Week. Out of all the working at obedience trials, hunting ducks on rain-swept days, protecting the masters against injury or loss of possessions, the greatest source of inspiration to man has finally attained national homage.

"Always faithful"
Most appropriately "Always faithful" is the theme for this year's observance of National Dog Week.

Eulogy, local observances, and individual appreciation will mark this memorable week.

With renewed vigor dogs must push the seven point objectives which are emphasized during this week. They are (so as not to forget them):

1. A good home for every dog.
2. Elimination of stray dogs from the streets.
3. Better informed dog owners.

4. Teach consideration for dogs and all animals.

5. Emphasize the importance of a dog as a companion, helper and home protector.

6. Secure fair law for dogs and their owners.

7. Teach respect for the rights of non-dog owners.

Dogs, there are many allies among humans for accomplishing canine objectives. Such men as Dale Carnegie, Gabriel Heatter, Lauritz Melchior, and Gene Tunney are members of this City and county figures are correct. State figures are reported weekly.

Nine new polio cases in the state last week brought the 1953 total to 192 cases, compared to 1,504 by this time last year.

There were 16 new cases in each of the previous two weeks, always the heaviest for polio incidence in Nebraska.

With the number of new cases decreasing, two Lincoln patients and three patients from outside the county still are hospitalized in Lincoln.

Lee Allan Brehm, 18, 1420 No. 14th, admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital two weeks ago, will be released from the hospital Wednesday.

Ray McDowell, 29, Rt. 2, still is in Veterans Hospital. Mrs. William Scharf, 21, and Nancy Brainard, 17, both of Valparaiso, and Mrs. Donald Brown of Fairbury remain hospitalized here.

Turned Another Page In The Old Family Album

The old family album gets better and better as time goes on—Turned another page this morning and found some exceedingly interesting pictures of a costume party taken a number of years ago when the Forty Niners Club was one of the most popular fun organizations in town—Understand that the Forty-Niners was an outgrowth of the Bachelor's Club which also was popular—up to a point—or matrimony—As soon as a bachelor became a benedict he was ousted from the club, and finally the day came when there were too few bachelors—hence the Forty Niners which was composed mainly of the young marrieds.

There at the far left we find three members of the Forty Niners Club posing for a picture between dances—This bit of frivolity happened some 27 years ago, and in spite of the costumes the identification is easy—The debonair gent who is posing as a thorn between two roses, is none other than Ed O'Shea, and the ladies are

Mrs. Leland Waters (left), now of Framingham, Mass., and Mrs. John Lawlor.

We really gave up on the identity of the group shown second from left—There were only one or two that we knew—Lyle Holland, for instance, second from left at the back—and it could be, but we're not sure, that the gent on Mr. Holland's left is Hoyt Hawke—We also recognized Flavia Waters Champe (with the striped jacket) and Mr. Champe who is at her right—But from there its anybody's guess—fore her marriage, was Helen Shepherd.

And in the last of our Forty Niners picture we find Mr. and Mrs. C. W. D. Kinsey—and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stryker—The Strykers, as you know, now reside in Omaha.

To Attend State Convention

Photographed as they prepared to leave Lincoln Tuesday morning were delegates of the Lancaster County Extension Club Council who will attend the three-day state convention of Extension Club Councils at Norfolk. The annual convention, which is open to any extension club member, will feature workshop discussions and addresses by guest speakers including Governor Robert Crosby.

Lancaster Council publicity chairman; Mrs. Ted Munn of the Martell Women's Club; Mrs. Henry Ideen, Raymond Extension Club; Mrs. La Verne Rockenbach, Busy Bee Extension Club; and Miss Frances Runty, Lancaster County home agent.

Mrs. Jaycees To Entertain

The annual membership tea of the Mrs. Jaycees, wives of Junior Chamber of Commerce members, will be held between the hours of 3 o'clock and 5 o'clock, Sunday, at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Jones, 245 North 25th.

All Jaycee wives are invited to attend the tea for which Mrs. William Palmer, Mrs. William Reiske, Mrs. Julius Ross and Mrs. Robert Wilson will be hostesses. Included in the receiving line will be Mrs. William Hastings, president; Mrs. Herb Henry, membership chairman; and Mrs. Dean Kratz. Mrs. Ed Dosek and Mrs. James Shellie will preside at the tea table assisted by Mrs. Gene Ingram, and in charge of the guest book will be Mrs. Roger Larson and Mrs. Thomas Summers. In charge of table decorations is Mrs. Clark McCabe.

Guest speaker at the Monday evening dinner-meeting of the Lincoln Credit Women's Breakfast Club held at the YWCA, was Miss Charlotte Cooper. The program also included movies of the club's summer picnic which were shown by Miss Wauneta Sharp.

Miss Thelma Applebee, president, announced that the club's annual election of officers will be held at the October 6, breakfast meeting.

Breakfast Club

The Revelers, so we hear, will begin the regular season on Saturday evening, Oct. 24 but in the meantime there is to be a pre-season party at which the new officers are to be presented—That affair is scheduled for Sunday evening—also at East Hills.

APROPOS OF PARTIES—Understand that Mrs. James Critchfield is to be a hostess this morning at her home when she entertains 15 guests at a coffee in courtesy to Mrs. Neville Allison, III, of Gordonsville, Va., who, with Mr. Allison, and their son, Neville Monroe Allison, IV, is a guest at the home of her father, Charles Heyl.

On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Critchfield will compliment both Mr. and Mrs. Allison when they are host and

Rites At Franklin For Mishap Victim

FRANKLIN, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—Funeral services were held here for Millard Van Camp, who was killed instantly when a tractor overturned on a county road southeast of Franklin. He was pinned beneath the vehicle.

Surviving are his wife and a daughter, Ethel, of Franklin. Van Camp was a lifetime resident of Franklin.

Library At Wisner Opens In New Home

WISNER, Neb.—Wisner Public Library officials marked the 50th anniversary of the organization Tuesday by moving into new headquarters.

The old State Bank Building will serve as the site for the library. Members of the board are Emil Sudman, president; Mrs. Harold Thomeen, treasurer; and Miss Rosa Armstrong, secretary and librarian.

Children Help Foot Bill For Baby's Arrival

FALLS CITY, Neb. (INS)—The children of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Schulenberg of Falls City, Mo., were so thrilled at the prospect of a new baby in the family that they paid $50 on their mother's hospital bill.

When Mrs. Schulenberg and the children's new baby brother were released from a Falls City hospital, Larry, 13, and Mary Frances, 7, presented the $50 in half-dollars saved from their weekly allowances—at the cashier's window.

Cozad Festival Opens Wednesday

COZAD, Neb. (AP)—Cozad is looking for 5,000 to 6,000 farm families at its annual two-day "Hay Days" fall festival.

The festival opens Wednesday with a carnival and free acts.

There will be a parade Thursday preceded by marching drill demonstrations by bands from Arnold, Gothenburg, Eustis, Lexington and Cozad. This will be the first time in several years that the Arnold band has participated.

Goad Pleads Guilty To Charge Of Arson

HASTINGS, Neb. (INS)—Samuel W. Goad, 29-year-old Hastings man, has been bound over to the Adams County District Court on $500 bond after pleading guilty to a charge of third degree arson. The charge carries a penalty of from one to three years in prison.

Goad allegedly signed a statement admitting he set three fires in the Rex Stevens home in Hastings on the night of Sept. 14 after gaining entrance by cutting a rear screen door.

Two-House Advantage Is Claimed

The bi-partisan committee of Republicans and Democrats has voted to circulate petitions to return the Nebraska legislative system to a partisan two-house legislature.

The state at present has one-house non-political system.

The initiative petitions which the bi-partisan committee will circulate call for a vote at the next general election.

The main provisions of the petition:

The House of Representatives shall have not less than 80 nor more than 100 members elected on a population basis.

The committee says "this feature will give the heavier populated areas more representation proportionately than they now have under the present system."

Equal Representation

The Senate shall be composed of not less than 30 nor more than 40 members with an equal representation from each Congressional district.

The committee adds "within the Congressional districts the senatorial districts shall be divided on a geographical area basis rather than population which will give the rural areas more representation proportionately than they now have."

Members of the House of Representatives would be elected for two year terms and the members of the Senate for four year terms.

One half of the senators would be elected every two years to give "more continuity" to the legislative program.

$20 Per Day

Pay would be $20 a member per day for a maximum of 75 legislative sessions. The committee says "This would not limit the length of the session but would encourage shorter sessions."

The committee statement concluded "We feel that what is included in this initiative petition embodies the best features developed by experience by the state governments."

It was also announced the committee will soon be enlarged to include one Democrat and one Republican from each county.

Present members of the committee are Sam W. Reynolds, Omaha businessman; Chris Milius, president of the Nebraska Farmers Union; John Riddell, York attorney; Paul R. Busch, publisher of the Howells Journal; William H. Meier, Minden Democratic State Chairman; Hugh Riley, Fairbury businessman; Pat Heaton, Sidney attorney, and Sam McKelvie, Valentine, former governor.

Reynolds, Milius, Riddell and McKelvie are Republicans; Busch, Meier, Riley and Heaton, Democrats.

More Sun Is On Tap For Wednesday

Sunny skies are forecast for most of the country Wednesday except for the southern half of Florida and western portions of Washington and Oregon. Rain is likely over southern Florida and the Columbia Plateau. Temperatures will remain cool in the middle Atlantic and the New England states. A warmer trend will be noted over the central interior sections of the country. (AP Wirephoto Map Tuesday Night.)

Omaha Plant Walkout Ends

OMAHA (AP)—Officials of the CIO Packinghouse Workers Union and Swift & Co. reached an agreement Tuesday afternoon ending a walkout of nearly 1,600 workers.

Employees began walking out Saturday and by Monday nearly 1,600 workers were idle. The first employees to leave their jobs were in the beef dressing department.

F. E. Borchers, general manager of the plant, said company officials and union spokesmen had agreed "if we scheduled work, they would return."

Lewis Roach, international representative of the union, could not be reached for comment, but Mrs. Gloria Koubusky, president of local 47, said the union had ordered the workers back on the job.

Frank Rose, recording secretary of local 47, said workers reported at the plant Tuesday morning but were told there was no work scheduled and were turned back.

Borchers said earlier Tuesday: "We still haven't heard a word from union officials. Since we didn't know the intention of the union officials or employees, we could not set up a work schedule or make any plans."

Services Are Held For Shelton Veterinarian

SHELTON, Neb.—Funeral services were held at the Shelton Methodist Church for Dr. F. C. Sundstrom, Shelton veterinarian for many years.

Surviving are his wife; a son, Dr. Darwin of Springfield, Mo.; a half-brother and three half-sisters.

Father Of Two Is Electrocuted

LEXINGTON, Neb. (AP)—Funeral services were held here for Dareld Trautman, 28, of Lexington, who was electrocuted accidentally.

Trautman, married and the father of two small children, came in contact with a high voltage line while working on an REA installation a few miles northeast of Cozad.

According to Deputy Sheriff John Rohrert, Trautman was working high on a pole while other workmen below were removing a ground wire which ran down the length of the pole. The ground wire was jerked to free it from the staples holding it to the pole and flew into the air, across the "hot" wire and across Trautman.

Thieves Make Way With School Bell

FREMONT, Neb. (AP)—The bell isn't ringing any more for school children in District 69, nine miles north of Fremont.

The reason: Someone swiped the bell.

What thieves might want the bell for is a mystery. The thing weighs an estimated 75 to 100 pounds, making it too big for a dinner bell, too small for a church bell.

Gas Hearing Delayed

New Conoco Super Gasoline

with TCP*

The Greatest Gasoline Development in 31 Years

Restores "new car" power!

Increases spark-plug life up to 150%!

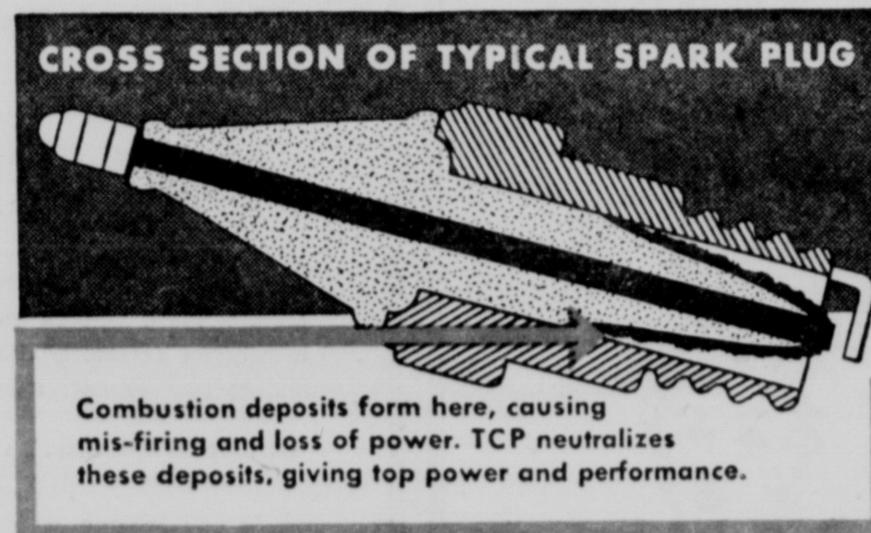

Gives you extra gas mileage, too!

Today it is possible to put new power in your car—just by driving into a Conoco station and filling up with new Conoco Super Gasoline.

For Conoco Super with TCP is a new kind of motor fuel—truly the greatest advance in gasoline since the introduction of tetraethyl lead in 1922. New Conoco Super can actually increase the power of the average car as much as 15%. That's because TCP overcomes the greatest cause of power loss affecting most cars on the road today. Conoco Super with TCP is brought to you by special arrangement with Shell Oil Company. TCP is Shell's trademark for the remarkable additive originally developed for aviation fuel.

Combustion deposits drastically reduce power

When you drive your car, deposits constantly build up on spark plugs and in the combustion chambers. These deposits can "cheat" you of power in two ways. First, they short-circuit spark plugs—causing them to mis-fire. Second, deposits in the combustion chambers cause fuel to ignite before it should. This is called pre-ignition or "wild ping." The combined effect of mis-firing and pre-ignition is loss of power, lack of "pep" and wasted gas.

How Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP works

Now Conoco Super with TCP—a cresyl compound—dramatically overcomes loss of power and fuel caused by combustion deposits. TCP actually neutralizes harmful deposits on spark plugs and in combustion chambers. With new Conoco Super your plugs spark as they should. Your fuel ignites as it should. You get and keep "new car" performance.

TCP helps your car—whether new or old

Whether your car is new or old, you can enjoy the benefits of TCP. If you have a new car, with a high-compression engine, it will keep on delivering its built-in power as long as you use Conoco Super Gasoline. If your car is an older one, Conoco Super will restore much of the power you have lost. Conoco Super with TCP is at your Conoco dealer today. Don't wait another day to start using this new kind of gasoline—the greatest gasoline development in 31 years!

See what Conoco Super with TCP can do for your car

Start the "TWO-TANK TEST" today

1. When your gasoline tank is one-quarter full or less, fill it with Conoco Super with TCP. Now, there will still be some ordinary gasoline mixed in with your Conoco Super, so . . .
2. Make sure your next tankful is Conoco Super, too. So rapidly does Conoco Super work that with this second tankful, chances are you'll feel as if your engine has had a tune-up. You'll feel a boost in power. Try it today. We're sure you'll stay with Conoco Super.

Chiefs Need $25,000 Capital

Would Assure Entry For '54 Western League

... Answer Required By Oct. 1

By NORRIS ANDERSON

Sports Editor, The Star

Western League baseball in Lincoln is again at the crossroads, according to a letter sent today to the 1,900 stockholders in the Chiefs.

A total of $25,000 will be needed as initial working capital to assure baseball at Sherman Field in 1954, reports President A. Q. Schimmel and directors of the Lincoln Baseball Club Inc.

Along with the letters sent by the board to each stockholder is a return postcard with the following questions:

(1) Do you want Western League baseball in Lincoln in 1954?

(2) Would you favor selling more stock?

(3) Would you favor an outright donation drive?

(4) Would you personally assist in the drive?

The answers must be tabulated and an answer reached by Oct. 1, the deadline set by the league for Lincoln to indicate whether it will operate in 1954.

"To assure a successful season, it is the feeling of the Board of Directors that plans should be made now," said Mr. Schimmel in the letter. "The Board feels that such a decision is out of its province and is a matter for all stockholders to decide."

The letter reveals that the Chiefs started the year with roughly $40,000 worth of stock sold or subscribed and indicates (via the latest financial report) that the Chiefs lost $27,000 in 1953. In addition to this loss the Chiefs still owe the Western League $15,000 on a loan made before the 1953 season.

"As assets, the Chiefs can list players under contract and owned outright that are worth $10,000, certain outstanding advertising accounts which we hope to collect, our lease on Sherman Field, a qualified amount of equipment, our Western League franchise and a gentlemen's agreement with the Milwaukee Braves that we will have a limited working agreement with them in 1954," announces the letter.

"These assets, together with our 1953 loss, have absorbed nearly all of the original $40,000 worth of stock. We have the ball park, the franchise, the ball players and equipment to field a team in 1954, but we have no working capital."

"Optimistically speaking, our first year was a success. Lincoln drew over 91,000 fans at home.

This was an increase of some 30,000 over 1952. Lincoln baseball fans saw good hustling baseball in Sherman Field that was highlighted by the league's best pitching. The Lincoln Chiefs in 1953 were adequately supported by advertising and paying customers.

"Realistically speaking, the operation of the Lincoln Chiefs lost money. This was due to several factors: a poor start caused by bad weather, poor road attendance caused by smaller crowds in other Western League cities, and a heavy first year overhead."

A tougher crossroad was passed last December after the Philadelphia A's suddenly dropped their outright ownership contract with Lincoln. A whirlwind drive, led by former General Manager Bill Hayes, produced the $40,000 among some 1,900 stockholders.

Later on, Hayes affected a limited working agreement with the rich Milwaukee Braves, a pact which is expected to reap improved player talent for 1954.

After Hayes' resignation, John Maher proved a capable successor and, under his stewardship, the Chiefs drew an average of over 2,000 during the last two months of the season.

Most of the $27,000 loss is directly accountable to the facts that (1) 12 of the first 20 games were weathered out, (2) a sizable chunk was needed for initial equipment, purchase of players etc., (3) an average attendance of under 700 at Sioux City and lower crowds at the usually crowded Denver park.

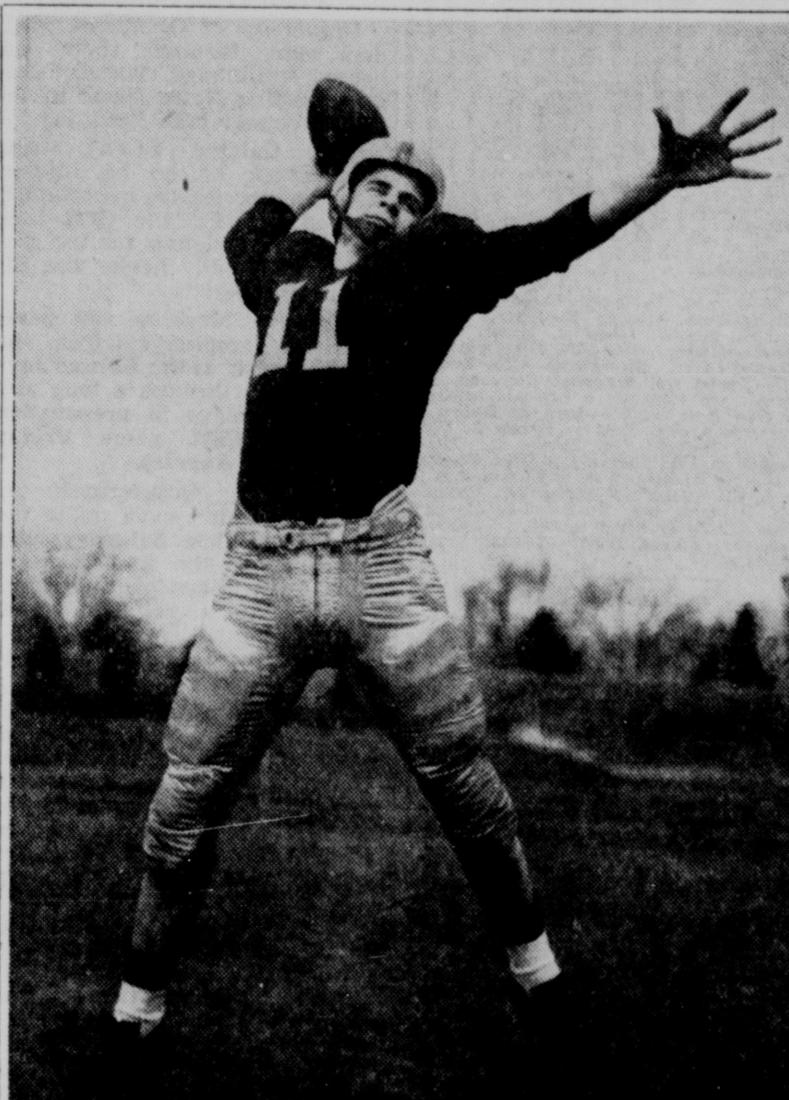

This writer's opinion: Western League baseball has now established such firm roots in Lincoln that this newest $25,000 crisis will be passed. Such a cherished community property simply will refuse to die. There is too much personal interest and pride involved.

Gentzler Top Gainer

FREMONT (INS)—Left Halfback Gordon Gentzler held the top spot in ground gaining and scoring Tuesday as the Midland College football team prepared for its Friday encounter with Kearney State Teachers College.

Gentzler has scored 18 points in two games this season and has picked up 125 yards in 30 carries for an average of 4.1 yards per carry.

The Warriors will be going after their sixth victory over Kearney in the 13-game series between the two schools.

Illini Aerial Threat

Em Lindbeck, 180-pound quarterback, will be one of the Illinois passing threats against the Nebraska Cornhuskers Saturday. He engineers the vital T-formation ball-handling slot in Coach Ray Eliot's intricate attack.

Fischer, Korinek Upped Husker Starting Team

By NORRIS ANDERSON

Sports Editor, The Star

Two new halfbacks were rolling through plays with the No. 1 University of Nebraska team Tuesday as Coach J. William Glassford rushed preparations for the Saturday joust with Illinois.

They were Tailback Rex Fischer, 160-pound Oakland sophomore and Dennis Korinek, 172-pound Ulysses junior, and they replaced two veterans in John Bordogna and Bob Smith.

Fischer and Korinek won starting berths by the simple expedient of leading the attack against Oregon.

The zippy Korinek, one of the squad's top open-field operators, caught two of Fischer's passes for 97 yards and picked up 20 more yards in two plays on the ground. One of the Fischer-Korinek aerials accounted for 68 yards and the second Husker touchdown.

Fischer hit four of five passes for 118 yards, averaged four yards on 18 rushing plays and scored one touchdown.

The return of two long-ile cringles supplied the other news as the Huskers spent a long session on fundamentals, topped by a dummy scrimmage.

End Andy Loehr, out since early September with a broken jaw, and Quarterback Dan Brown, out all year with illness, were back in full harness.

Loehr, wearing a special plastic mask, was practicing Monday but his availability Saturday is still doubtful. With Ralph Weddel still nursing a Charley Horse, Loehr's return would greatly bolster a badly-battered end corps.

Scouts watching future Husker opponents Saturday include Al Partin, Miami against Florida State; Bob Paris, Pittsburgh against West Virginia, and Ray Prochaska, Kansas State against Colorado A&M.

New Husker lineups, announced by Glassford.

No. 1—Andy Loehr, Turtle Creek, Pa.; Ted Connor, Schenectady, N.Y.; Max Kitzelman, Omaha, Neb.; John Max, Toledo, Ohio; Jerry Paulson, Des Moines, Iowa; Tom O'Brien, Tulsa, Okla.; Dan Brown, Sioux Falls, S.D.; quarterback, John Bordogna, Turie Falls, Wis., and Bob Smith, Grand Island, halfback, and Ray Novak, Omaha, fullback.

No. 2—Jack Braley, Milne City, Mont., and Jerry Nease, Hastings, Neb.; Bill Holloman, Schuyler, and Dick Moore, Mt. Vernon, Ia., tackles; Pev Evans, Des Moines, Ia., and Jerry Paulson, Des Moines, ends; S. D., guard, Dick Post, Sherman, center; Franklin Reeves, Rushville, quarterback; Dirksen Rolston, Forsyth, Mont., and Jon Hargan, Cheyenne, backs; John Edwards, North Platte, fullback.

The Huskers will fly to Champaign, leaving Lincoln at noon Friday and returning Saturday night.

Russia Rebuffed Twice On Korea Parley Move

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U. N. rebuffed twice Tuesday a stubborn move by Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky to reopen the whole question of who will sit in the Korean Peace Conference.

The General Assembly voted 40-8 late Tuesday against Vishinsky. This followed a vote of 11-2 by which the Steering Committee decided against recommending that the Assembly take up the Russian proposal.

The Soviet bloc plus Sweden, Burma and Indonesia voted in the Assembly in favor of reopening the Korean Peace Conference debate. Ten countries abstained.

The next move indicated for Vishinsky is in the 60-nation Political Committee, where he will try to have the Korean issue put first on the committee's work sheet. Delegates said the whole Vishinsky maneuver was designed to bring the peace conference back into the Assembly debate in some fashion before the Oct. 28 deadline for the conference to open.

The Steering Committee heard a surprise suggestion by U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. that the Korean peace conference itself decide the controversial question whether neutrals will take part in the parleys.

Vishinsky immediately denounced Lodge's suggestion as a "mere chess move which is inappropriate here" and accused Lodge of trying to turn the committee into a "kindergarten where the children play a cat and mouse game." He warned that rejection of his move to reopen the issue here would wreck the conference.

After acting on the Korean item put up by Vishinsky, the Assembly put on its agenda without a dissenting vote the Russian peace proposals wrapped up in

Council Reverses Sidewalk Order

The City Council has instructed its legal department to reverse an earlier Council order for sidewalks along the curb on Winthrop Rd. from Van Dorn to Plymouth and to order the walk set back from the curb in the regular manner.

The Council acted in the face of legal action brought by residents involved seeking to restrain the Council from putting in the walk along the curb. Deputy City Attorney Jack Pace told the Council he felt a restraining order could not be obtained against a walk with setback as that was the procedure outlined in the ordinance.

The Council had originally ordered the walks in along the curb so trees in the line of where the walk would have normally been placed would not have to be removed.
